Alternate Parking Is New Scheme To Relieve Main St.

COUNCIL ENDORSES PLAN PROPOSED BY BOARD OF TRADE

MAYOR LIKES PLAN

"That the citizens of Newmarket be requested to refrain from parking cars on Main St. on Saturdays; also the police be instructed to enforce alternate parking on Main St. of all other cars from Millard Ave. to Timothy St.; also that the proprietors of the Strand theatre be asked to provide a parking lot for their patrons."

This resolution was passed by the town council on Monday evening at the request of Councillor Wm. Dixon, chairman of the police committee. Mr. Dixon said that the resolution embodied the wishes of a deputation from the Newmarket board of trade.

"Alternate parking," Mr. Dixon explained, means that the cars will be parked on one side of Main St. one week and on the other side the following week.

Three men will be employed to supervise parking on Saturdays at the market square, the Bosworth property on Botsford St. and behind the United church if that property proves available, Mr. Dixon said.

"I think if you just had the citizens keep their cars off Main St. on Saturday, you wouldn't need alternate parking," said Councillor Frank Bowser. "I remember 30-minute parking. I wouldn't like anything like that to happen again."

"The alternate parking is the best idea you have," said Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd. "I have a dent on the fender of my car now from Main St."

Councillor D. O. Mungovan said that the delegates from the board of trade requested a resolution along these lines, and that they had said that their members were fairly unanimous about the matter.

Councillor J. L. Spillette said that he did not object to the alternate parking, but that it was contrary to the opinion of some merchants he had talked with.

"Unless you adopt the alternate parking you do not solve the narrow street problem," said Councillor Wm. Dixon.

"We have been waiting for years for a body independent of the council to take action in this matter," said Reeve F. A. Lundy. "Shouldn't we now accept these recommendations from the board of trade?"

Chief James Sloss was instructed to co-operate with the merchants in working out the parking problem along the lines of the resolution.

COUNCILLORS OFFICIALLY OPEN 1940 SOFTBALL SEASON

Play ball! Town council officials opened the softball season on Thursday evening at the smart fair grounds diamond. Top left picture shows Manager Alex. Webster warming up the fielders with a few fast ones while awaiting the arrival of the Camp Borden Fliers. Carl Welsh is catching. Top right shows the mayor, Dr. S. J. Boyd, who pitched the first ball, and Joe Spillette, last year's manager, who took a fatherly interest in the team. Bottom left shows Councillor A. V. Higginson, who caught the first ball, President Chas. W. Holmes, who was running things, and Marshall Lyons, leader of the Citizens' band, which provided music for the opening. Veterans Offer To Be Home Guard Or Help In Any Way

COUNCIL IS UNANIMOUS IN APPRECIATION OF VETERANS

WOULD HELP POLICE

"We are here to offer our services in any way we might be required," said Alf. Smith, president of the Newmarket Veterans, heading a deputation which waited on the town council on Monday evening.

"The government is going to organize a home guard of 3,000 men, but we do not know whether there will be a detachment stationed here," said H. M. Gladman. "It occurred to us that a group of men prepared to back up the police might be of use. People say, 'Oh, there is no need for anything like that here, we haven't any war industry,' but there was sabotage and espionage in the last war."

"With 3,000 men to guard Canada, you might just as well try to float the Olympic in a cup of water," said Alex. Eves. "We could obtain instructors from the Canadian Legion, and we would like to see a home guard formed at once, and drill started immediately."

S. J. Brice said that an incident had just occurred near Newmarket which had caused worry. A Bogarttown resident had seen men with a map and had heard them remark that where they were would make an ideal place for a gun position from which to shell Toronto. This was being investigated, he said.

Councillor D. O. Mungovan said that the Bogarttown man had probably seen militia men, who were all over the countryside making maps.

"I would like to express my appreciation to the veterans, who always rise 100 per cent to

Relieve France Of Refugees Newmarket Veterans Urge

SUGGEST SENDING FRANCE FOOD AND TAKING MANY REFUGEES

A resolution suggesting the sending of foodstuffs to France and recommending taking a large number of refugees was passed by the Newmarket Veterans' Association at a meeting on May 30.

The resolution, moved by H. M. Gladman and seconded by Bill White, reads as follows: "That this Association considers the present a most opportune time for this country to make a real gesture of friendship to our gallant ally—France. We believe this should take the form of a generous gift of foodstuffs and an offer to take over a large number of the unfortunate refugees."

ARE SENT HOME

Gunner Lindsay Harmon of the 23rd Battery of the R.C.A., and Pte. Dennis Hogan, R.C.A.S.C., both Newmarket boys, were sent home along with about 200 others, due to health impairment, from Aldershot, Eng., where they have been in training for the past three months.

CRUSHES HAND

Miss Nora Gunn had her hand badly crushed when she caught it in a machine at the Dixon Pencil Co. last Friday. She was attended by Dr. J. G. Cock.

ATTEND CHURCH PARADE

R. S. A. bugle band paraded with C.N.R. veterans to Bathurst St. United church, Toronto, on Sunday morning. There is a possibility of the bandsmen accompanying the C.N.R veterans to a veterans' convention in Montreal in July.

COUNCILLORS WOULD CARE FOR REFUGEES

Two members of the town council expressed readiness to take refugee children into their own homes, at a town council meeting on Monday evening.

"Some people came to me and offered to take children, but they expected to be paid for it," Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd said. "There will be no remuneration for taking these children."

Dr. Boyd had a letter from Ottawa, replying to a letter of his own, stating that the Canadian government was going to bring refugee children to Canada but that it would take time to work out details. Ottawa would work through child welfare organizations, the letter from the minister of mines and resources said.

WILL HOLD SOAP BOX DERBY ON JUNE 20

A soap box derby is being held on Thursday evening, June 20, in connection with Big Band night. All those wishing to enter are asked to leave their name with Roy Rhinehart.

ATTENDS JUBILEE

Mrs. Alice Thompson and son, Arthur Webster, of Toronto, were visitors of Mrs. Thompson's daughter, Mrs. G. W. Curtis, on their way to the golden jubilee of the Ladies' Aid of the Baptist church on con. 5, King, on Tuesday. Mrs. Thompson was a charter member of the Ladies' Aid 50 years ago.

TOXOIDING FINISHED M.O.H. DISAPPOINTED

On Wednesday last the doctors of the town, with the able assistance of Mrs. Hilts, who greatly aided by providing a sterile needle for each pupil, finished the toxoiding in the four lower schools. The Era is informed.

The only disappointment was the small number who availed themselves of the smallpox vaccination. The M.O.H. has a large quantity of fresh vaccine on hand and parents should not let the opportunity pass, but should take their children to their family doctor and have them protected against both smallpox and scarlet fever.

WILL HOLD TEA AT HOME OF MRS. R. J. ROGERS

A Red Cross tea will be held on Thursday afternoon, June 20, at the home of Mrs. R. J. Rogers, Sharon. Proceeds will be used for East Gwillimbury Red Cross funds.

OILING BITERS ARRANGED BY HEALTH BOARD

"PATERNALISM," SAYS DEPUTY VALE, ASKING CUTTING OF RAGWEED

HE'S A SNEEZER

Instructions have been given by the board of health to Datus Crowder, town foreman, to put oil on Fairy Lake and all stagnant and standing water about town, to stop the breeding of mosquitoes, Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd told the town council on Monday evening.

Dr. Boyd read a letter of instruction which Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., had written to Mr. Crowder.

"I have had complaints about mosquitoes at the bowling-green," said Councillor Frank Bowser. "Apparently the willow trees along the Lions club park make an ideal breeding-place."

"That indicates how far we have gone with paternalism in government," Deputy-Reeve Joseph Vale said later on. "When somebody is bitten by a couple of mosquitoes he complains to the town council.

"I want to make my annual inquiry as to whether the weed inspector is going to do anything about ragweed."

"When do you begin to sneeze, Joe?" someone asked.

Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd said that ragweed was troublesome from Aug. 4 until the frost comes, and that it should be cut "just before it blooms."

SCOUTS WILL CAMP AT ISLAND GROVE

The scouts and cubs are planning on going camping at Island Grove for ten days each, from July 13 to Aug. 7.

As this is the first camp of the 2nd Newmarket troop, camping equipment is needed. If anyone has any tents, frying-pans, kettles, etc., would they kindly get in touch with Scoutmaster H. A. Budd, phone 431, or Cubmaster Jack Hamilton, phone 116, and it will be greatly appreciated.

The recent paper collection made by the scouts and cubs of the 2nd Newmarket Troop was generously responded to by the townsfolk and netted the boys about $30 towards their camp fund, for which the boys were very grateful. They plan another collection for June 29.

LEAVE BORDEN

Half a dozen Newmarket boys left Camp Borden today with the Royal Regiment of Canada. They were Arthur Brymer, Fred C. Evans, Earl and Walter Wrightman, Alan McDonald and W. P. Pipher.

SOME WILL SEE GAME FOR FIRST TIME

The hardball experiment starts on Tuesday evening at the fair grounds at 6.30 p.m. The Davis Leather and R.S.A. bugle band teams will start off the season.

President Elmo Druery, Vice-President Ben Wilson and Secretary-Treasurer Wm. Haskett expect a big crowd to see the old game revived. Many youngsters will see hardball played for the first time in their young lives.

A new diamond has been constructed at the east end of the fair grounds and is in tip-top shape for the opening.

OUTSTANDING PIANIST WILL PLAY ON SUNDAY

A program entitled "The Music of the Gospel" will be presented in music, song, composition and story, by Robert Harkness at the Christian church on Sunday evening, June 9, at 8.30 p.m.

The program is as follows:

Piano—Variations on a sacred theme.

Congregational singing—introducing new theme chorus—(specially composed for this program):

"What could be greater than my Saviour's love?
What could be greater than my Saviour's love?
On the Cross for me He died,
For my sin was crucified—
What could be greater than my Saviour's love?"

Messages in tone—"Crucifixion"—"Chaos"—"Chimes."

A song and its story—featuring one of Robert Harkness' well-known songs — "Shadows" —"In Jesus"—"Sometime"—etc.

Interpreting "Jesus Lover of My Soul"—ideas of four composers.

Accompaniments — original piano accompaniments and preludes for hymns and gospel songs.

Offertory arrangements — adaptive piano transcriptions of hymns.

Impromptu chorus — Robert Harkness will set to music a text of scripture suggested by anyone in the audience. He will write the music, then teach the audience to sing it.

From Minor to Major—A musically-illustrated message: (a) the minor key—what it interprets — where it is found — its scriptural significance; (b) the major key—its interpretation—what it represents; (c) transition from minor to major — how accomplished—its spiritual application.

This recital presents a spiritual message in music, song and story. It interprets the theme of Calvary. Each number emphasizes the gospel message. All items feature compositions by Robert Harkness. This program is subject to change without notice.

During an intermission an offering for Robert Harkness will be received.

WILL HOLD TAG

The Salvation Army was granted permission to hold a tag day on Saturday, June 15, at a town council meeting on Monday evening.

KILTIE BAND WILL GIVE FINE PROGRAM

The citizens of Newmarket will again be entertained by the Orillia Kiltie Band, whose appearance here two years ago made many favorable impressions, on Sunday, at 8.30 p.m., at the Strand theatre.

This is a fine band—one of the finest in the province, and they always present a good mixed program of band music. They have made great progress under their leader, Reg. C. Brain, whose capability is well-known. Harold Dempsey is the piano accompanist.

This band now has a complete set of new instruments, and their music should please all lovers of good band music in Newmarket and the surrounding country. The band is composed of some 40 to 50 pieces and, in their smart kilts, they should present a very pleasing picture.

This concert will complete the program of inside concerts for the season, sponsored by the Newmarket Citizens' band for this year. The band has been fortunate in obtaining the Strand theatre for this Sunday evening, and it is the hope of the band that it will be packed to the doors.

The program will be as follows:

1. Regimental marches (Famous British Regiments).
2. Naval march, "On the Quarter Deck," K. Alford.
3. Grand selection of Scotch melodies—"Reminiscences of Scotland," F. Godfrey. (Bagpipes—Jock Gardner and Jack Thompson).
4. Vocal solo—Mrs. Roumaine Pulford — Selected — (Soloist at St. Paul's church).
5. Valse, (Il Bacio) The Kiss, L. Ardisi.
6. March Fantasia, "Colonel Bogey on Parade," K. Alford. (A sparkling review of marches and countermarches.)
7. Military march, "There's Something About a Soldier."
8. Clarinet solo, Air Vaire, "Home Sweet Home," Rollinson. Musician W. Rands. (Bagpipes, Jock Gardner and Jack Thompson.)
9. Vocal solo, Mrs. Roumaine Pulford.
10. Patriotic selection, "Communityland," Stodden.
11. Hymn, "Abide With Me."
12. French patrol, "The French National Anthem."

The Marseillaise, Rule Britannia, God Save the King.

BORDEN FLIERS LOSE OPENER TO REDS 14-10

MAYOR AND COLLEAGUES, WITH BAND, OPEN SOFTBALL SEASON

BLUES SHOW CLASS

The well-fledged Camp Borden Fliers opened the softball season here at the fair grounds on Thursday evening. The airmen made a real hit with the crowd of 700 fans, but after a strong start lost out to the Newmarket Redmen by a 14-10 score.

The Citizens' band played "the King" to open the season officially. Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd pitched the first ball, Reeve Fred Lundy at bat missed it and Councillor Albert Higginson had trouble in pulling it down.

The fliers went to work on Niles in the first stanza and piled up a nice lead. The Newmarket infield pulled a couple of boners behind the rise-baller, while the outer gardeners didn't help any when they misjudged two long flies. When the smoke had cleared from the battlefield in the first, the fliers had rattled four counters across the platter, Walker, Gibb, Gallop and Wade scoring.

The red team came back with two in their half, Giles and Herb Cain scoring. Peters was robbed of a fine bid for a homer when Miller, centre gardener of the airmen, ran miles to pull down his long lift. While holding the air boys scoreless in the second and third, the reds added one in the second and forged ahead in the third with two more. That made it 5-4 for the Newmarket boys.

At the start of the fourth Red Whittaker replaced Gibb on the mound for the fliers and got a warm reception, the reds nailing two runs when Giles singled,

DISEASE DISCOVERED, BEES ARE DESTROYED

Several Newmarket beekeepers had to destroy their bees last week as the result of the discovery of the "foul brood" disease in their hives.

Government inspectors, C. A. Kirk, Aurora, and Carl Lee, Mount Albert, were here, and, discovering the prevalence of the disease, ordered the bees and their honey destroyed.

START COMPETITION

Competition for the Lennox cup for local bowling club members starts on Monday, June 10.

"How's business?" a passerby asked the old scissors grinder.

"Fine," he said. "I never saw things so dull."

Glover Wins First Start In 5-3 Pitchers' Battle

HILLERS BOW TO REDS AS STONG GIVES TOO MANY WALKS

Aurora and Newmarket softballers play at Newmarket tonight.

"Lefty" Glover, making his first start of the season for the redmen, set the Hillers down with five hits in a pitcher's battle as he bested Stong, the ace of the Hillers' hurling staff, at Richmond Hill Tuesday evening.

The management of the red team pulled one out of the bag in starting the youngster against the strong hilltoppers, and the fact that he came through should further encourage the bench to use the younger players. The final score was 5-3 for Newmarket.

In the first canto the Hillers had a chance to come through when Cochrane and Bennett singled in succession but the next batter faded and they died on base.

Things looked rosy for the reds in the second when Bulmer, Luck and Glover all singled after two were out but Trivett went out with the bases loaded and the chance was gone. From the second to the sixth the sides went out in order with the pitchers really bearing down and both teams right on their toes.

To open the sixth Gibney got on through Dyke's error, Peters walked and so did Burkholder, filling the sacks. The next man, Bulmer, doubled through second to score Gibney and Peters, Burkholder getting caught at the plate due to slow base-running. Luck and Glover passed away in order. Back came the Hillers in their half of the inning. Buchanan, first man up, singled, the Crean boys died in order and

JOINS ARMY

Douglas May, Main St. business man, has joined the 48th Highlanders as a butcher. "Doug" May is a former Newmarket intermediate hockey player.

GOLDSHIRTS SWAMP SOUTH YONGE SQUAD

Displaying plenty of power with the willow, Alex. Webster's feminine ball-tossers opened the season in handy fashion by snowing the Thornhill nine under, at the Newmarket softball stadium last evening.

With both bands out for the occasion, some 500 fans turned out for the girls' initial game, and they certainly were not disappointed. Newmarket swamped Thornhill 31-6.

The new gold and maroon uniforms of the local girls are showy. These uniforms are the result of some hard work on the part of the girls last winter when they raised the money and they certainly deserve credit for the way they have outfitted themselves.

The Thorns went after Marj. McCarnan & Co. in the first inn-

FROM GUTENBERG TO MERGENTHALER

Strangely enough, in this year when we are at war with Germany, Canadian printers are celebrating the 500th anniversary of the invention of movable type by a German, Johannes Gutenberg. The essence of the invention was the idea of separate pieces of wood type, each a letter, which could be used in various combinations to make up words. We are told that the Chinese had used movable type two or three centuries earlier, and also that the Dutch claim that they invented movable type, but, however that may be, credit is generally given to Gutenberg, and Canadian and American printers are elaborately celebrating this quincentennial. A dinner is being held in Toronto on Friday evening to mark this event.

William Caxton brought printing to England in 1476, and around printing has been built a great part of the liberties which British people believe are now at stake in the war with Germany. Another German, Ottmar Mergenthaler, gave printing its biggest single step forward since the time of Gutenberg. Mergenthaler came to the United States in 1872 when he was 18 and working in collaboration with others, and with substantial financial backing, finally, after many disappointing efforts, invented the linotype. The linotype made possible our modern newspapers and gave the printing industry new life and new importance.

Mergenthaler's invention was almost the negation of Gutenberg's. Gutenberg used movable types, which could be used over and over again, while Mergenthaler used a solid line of metal type which was to be used and then thrown away. However, the idea of movable types still remained in the movable matrices or molds from which the line was cast, and still is cast.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN AND THIS WAR

There is a discouraging article in the June 1 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, and we mention it not to discourage others but to disagree with two or three statements. "German Bombers vs. The Allies," by Silas Wright, not only paints a discouraging picture of the relative air strength of the two sides, but throws in a few remarks to suggest that there is really little difference between the merits of the two causes. While few of us would go so far as to say that the Deity fights on one side or the other, or that either side is entirely without fault, the Hitler government's domestic record, before this war started, was so ugly, and its teachings and preachings so barbarian and retrogressive, that it seems impossible that a writer in Benjamin Franklin's magazine could discuss German and Allied purposes in terms of "six of one and half a dozen of the other."

The article is dated May 8th, and so was written prior to the invasion of Holland and Belgium. The writer argues that in the last war the Germans were as humane as the Allies, which may well be true, but it does not follow, as the writer suggests, that the Nazis are as humane as the Allies. According to this article, the humanity of both sides is dictated by the possible effect on American public opinion and the fear of reprisals. "American sympathy and eventual aid can decide the course of this war just as they decided the last one. Germany will do nothing, unless forced, to give the Allies an atrocity handle for propaganda in the United States. And neither do the Allies dare alienate American opinion by starting bombing."

Evidently the Germans were "forced" to invade Holland and Belgium, and to bomb civilians into a stampede along the highways which Allied troops would have used, because we can hardly doubt the accuracy of this information which has come to us from so many sources. We learn that German invasion of the Lowlands would be an act of defence. "If widespread bombing were to start, it would be essential to Germany for the protection of the Ruhr industrial area that Dutch and Belgian air neutrality should be maintained. Otherwise, the lack of depth for defence would make it extremely vulnerable. It is not at all improbable that Germany might feel it necessary to invade Holland, if Holland were not able to protect its own air neutrality."

We also learn that the man who rose to power through terrorism and the persecution of his fellow-countrymen may be motivated by "humanitarian feelings." "With all the material advantages in his favor, Hitler has refrained from using his air force. Is it because of statesmanship? The humanitarian feelings of a ruler and ex-soldier who realizes fully the misery and the destruction of widespread bombardment and wishes to save his own people from its effects? A desire not to harden the enemy's civil will, in the hope of gaining a negotiated peace? Or, finally, that he does not want to be the first to start widespread aerial bombing from fear of outraging American opinion?"

There you are. There never was a righteous war, and there never will be, but there can be a tremendous difference between the aims of the contenders. The German aim is to gain power, to deal a death blow to what is known as democracy, and to spread to other countries the unhappiness called Naziism. The Allied aim is defensive, to retain this faulty thing called democracy and, since battle is joined, to give democracy a chance again within Germany itself. We hope that another Allied aim is to set up a new system of international government that will ensure permanent peace, although we fear that too many of our Allied people have become hopeless about world government and want to go back to the old "might is right" system.

The principal difference between the Allied and German causes is that the Allied peoples almost unanimously believe in democracy, whereas only a fraction of the German people really believe in Naziism as a permanent form of government. While there is political liberty, there is hope of economic liberty, but in Germany there is neither liberty nor hope.

The Post article, we said, is discouraging. It gives a picture of German air superiority that, if true, means a hard time for the Allied nations. Developments in the last few weeks, however, seem to indicate that the superiority is not as overwhelming as this writer thinks, and certainly they indicate that German military scruples are not so delicate as he seems to think.

WAR MEANS TEARS

Two artillery batteries which had been training at Listowel entrained there two weeks ago for Petawawa camp. A picture of the departing train and the surrounding throng is reminiscent of pictures of the royal visit a year ago. The Listowel Banner describes the farewell scene:

"All the farewells were made through the coach windows and hands outside the windows were shaken by many as they passed along the side of the coach. There wasn't much joking or laughing, for there were lumps in the throats and tears in the eyes. The unspoken words of the older folk told far more than their outward actions what they were thinking. There were several touching scenes as children were lifted to the coach windows to received Dad's farewell kiss and hearts were wrenched when the train pulled slowly away. People were crowded against the coaches and had to be warned by the police. Groups gathered on the coach steps and kept on waving as the train pulled out of sight. All this brought back memories of the last world war to many of the older citizens. At that time, however, there were no troops quartered here, and no such send-offs occurred to stir the emotions."

WHY DOES AN "N" MAKE SUCH A DIFFERENCE?

One of these days we of The Era expect to make a bad mistake. We are looking forward to it, and we shall be able to say, "We told you so." It is the use of the word "internment" for "interment." We have already caught in our proofs, and seen in other publications, "interment" for "internment," but the public, in its present hysterical mood toward "enemy aliens," just remarks, "Serves him right," and hopes that there has been no typographical error. But, oh, what shall we do, one of these days, after we have announced that "internment took place in Newmarket cemetery"?

COMPETITION EVER, AMALGAMATION NEVER?

Orillia is contending against a proposal by the C.P.R. to give up its line through that town and abandon it to the tender mercies of the C. N. R. Apparently in pursuance of parliament's and the country's wish that the railways should eliminate duplication, the two railways have agreed that the C.P.R. should abandon this particular line. Several of Orillia's industries, which ship almost entirely by rail, object, and the town has proposed that the C.P.R. abandon its line but obtain running rights over the C.N.R. lines. The Packet and Times would go even further, and agree to complete withdrawal of the C.P.R., provided that Orillia shippers could retain the advantage of C.P.R. freight rates to C.P.R. points. "While there are two distinct railway systems, an industrial town of the size and importance of Orillia cannot afford to forgo the advantages inherent in having them both available to its manufacturers and commercial houses. The ideal arrangement would be real co-operation, under which all freight rates would be based on the shortest haul possible, as through traffic, irrespective of what lines were used."

Orillia apparently makes more use of the railways than most towns today, for the Packet and Times says that two firms do 100 per cent of their shipping by rail, two others do over 90 per cent by rail, and a fifth does over 80 per cent. One reason that the use of the railways is so heavy in Orillia may be that freight rates are lower at a competitive point, though that doesn't seem likely with all the co-operation that exists between the two systems.

The Packet and Times' suggestion that there should be "real co-operation" is sensible. It is another step toward amalgamation, which would be even more sensible. Such amalgamation, when it comes, should be under public ownership or control, for in our opinion, a private company should no more control all Canada's railways than a private company should control all Canada's highways. The phrase, "competition ever, amalgamation never," took into account public opinion of the day and helped to win an election, but it overlooked the fact that trucks and highway transports are providing all the competition that an amalgamated railway system would need to keep it humble.

In the meantime we hope that Orillia and the railways are able to work out a sensible arrangement which will avoid duplication but will not injure one of the loveliest and most progressive towns in the province.

DOBBIN, A CITY CREATURE

An Orillia manufacturer is selling a contrivance with which to convert old cars into tractors. We wonder how favorably the resulting vehicles compare with a tractor which a Bogarttown resident made for himself out of an old car some years ago, and is still using with success. The tractor, whether regular priced or improvised, is gradually forcing poor old Dobbin to take refuge in town and city, there to draw delivery wagons. Soon a farm boy will see his first horse when he takes his first trip to the city.

THE HUSBANDS TRY TO STICK TO THEIR KNITTING

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"Hello, Wood Pewee!" called Young Chips, as he looked up into the leafy green branches of a big soft-maple tree. "I can't see you, but I heard you saying 'de-ar-ie, de-ar-ie, dearie,' so I know it's you up there somewhere."

"Quite right, Mr. Chickadee," replied the little olive-green Fly-catcher. "I'm away up here above you, and I'm busy building my nest, so I haven't time to stop and chat, or my wife will say that I'm loafing on the job."

"Where are you building it?" asked Young Chips.

"I wouldn't like to say, exactly," the Pewee told him. "But it's in a dandy spot about 30 feet from the ground, securely fastened on a branch. In fact, when it's finished it will just look like a part of the branch itself."

"You build a rather flimsy nest, don't you," observed Young Chips. "You can even see the eggs through the floor, from the underside, I understand."

"Well that's all right," replied the Pewee. "We believe in thick walls and thin floors and sometimes we use the branch that the nest is built on as part of the floor. Then we make the walls of grasses and weeds and moss fibres and cover the outside of the walls with lichens and fasten them together with webs. And I want to tell you it's a most suitable nest for our three handsome creamy white eggs, with their wreaths of brown and gray spots."

"I suppose it suits you," said Young Chips, "but it wouldn't suit us. I was talking to your big cousin, the Kingbird, this morning. He's nesting this week, too, you know. I gather that he's building his nest in an orchard tree, but he nearly bit my head off for asking him about it. In fact, I must admit that he chased me away entirely. The Kingbirds are certainly terrible fighters in the springtime. I don't feel so badly though when I know that it doesn't make any difference how big the bird is, he will still chase it. A Crow was the next victim after me."

"You wouldn't have any trouble finding his nest if you wanted to look for it," the Pewee said. "It is a big, bulky thing that you can't very well miss. But here I am still talking and I must be going. Good-bye."

"I suppose I should be getting back to my own nest," mused Young Chips lazily. "Why, good gracious, there's Mr. Scarlet Tanager! He certainly is a good-looker. He has even the Cardinal beaten for brilliance of his coat, but I think the Cardinal is more distinguished looking. Hello, old pal," called Young Chips. "Your feathers don't seem to have faded any. How are you?"

"Well, if it isn't my old friend, Young Chips, the Chickadee," exclaimed the beautiful red bird. "I'm in the pink—the red, I should say, I suppose. I guess I'd better not stop and talk, though, glad as I am to see you. I'm in the middle of building my nest and I'd better get back to the dear little woman or she'll be thinking that I'm loafing on the job."

"Fluttering feathers!" exclaimed Young Chips with a laugh. "A Wood Pewee used almost those very words not five minutes ago. He was supposed to be building his nest, too. You people are certainly feeling conscientious this morning. Of course, I should be helping Merry with our eggs, but she's good-natured. Those black wings of yours, in your red suit, look just like pockets," he observed.

"Sometimes we are called Pocket-birds because of that very thing," the Tanager told him. "And we are called 'fire bird' and 'war bird,' too. But none of our names are suitable later on in the summer, when we begin to lose our color and get the drab greenish feathers that our wives have."

"Oh, so you don't think your wife is good-looking, eh?" asked Young Chips.

"Certainly not, in the sense we male Tanagers are," stated the bird calmly. "She is very plain, to tell you the truth, but she feels it rather keenly, so we try not to talk about it. Which reminds me of my work. See you soon." He flew off, his gorgeous scarlet feathers flashing in the sunlight.

"All the men are feeling so helpful these days," sighed Young Chips. "Perhaps I'd better take the hint and dash back home for a while and keep an eye on things. 'I must get back'—that's the most popular saying among the birds these days."

The Common Round

LEADERS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

All down the ages the word "leader" has stood out in shining letters. They have been stars in many a country's crown—these men—and to paraphrase a famous saying, "some are born leaders, some achieve leadership, and some have leadership thrust upon them."

"I think it can be truly said that many great leaders achieved their leadership. Often they rose from very humble beginnings, but by sheer force of character, the requisite ability to make quick decisions, enough of the seer to enable them to envision their mission as a whole, and, above all, courage—both physical and moral—they have attained greatness.

All great leaders have had physical courage—those who lacked moral courage, though success attended them for awhile, were bound in the end to fail, for, so far in history, the physical and temporal forces have never prevailed for any length of time over the moral and spiritual.

We take a writer's privilege, and ask you to board our magic carpet and swoop down through the ages to the Egypt of the Pharoahs—and we alight at the great audience chamber of the palace.

Pharoah is sitting on his magnificent throne, attended by his counsellors and guarded by his soldiers. In front of him stands a young man—quite unlike the Egyptians in appearance, and in all that gorgeous company, alone garbed as a prisoner and a slave.

The occupants of that vast hall are hushed to catch his words—he is interpreting the king's dreams, the calamities of drought and famine which were to befall Egypt—and one can imagine as Pharoah listened, he might well think, "he who can so marvellously interpret a dream, can surely find a suitable solution to the problem which will ensue."

And so, to the amazement, and no doubt, consternation, of his advisers, and his friends, he puts Joseph at the head of the nation. Here was a young man who had been sold into bondage in boyhood, thrust suddenly into the position of dictator of a great nation. HE had leadership THRUST upon him.

He might well have sunk beneath the almost superhuman demands of the task—but no, he had, as shield and buckler, moral and physical courage and an absolute belief in the God of his fathers. And so, armed with these, he went forward unswervingly to his goal—to store up food for the lean years. His reward, riches and honor, but what was more precious, the salvation of his own family from starvation. Yes, he had leadership thrust upon him.

It seems strange that another great leader also came out of Egypt, not sold into bondage, but rescued from a watery grave by the daughter of another Pharoah. Brought up in that atmosphere of court intrigue, in surrounding richness which almost staggers the imagination, Moses learned the lessons which were to make him great in the years to come.

He was trained in all the arts of the Egyptians, he understood them, he spoke their language, and tradition has it, might have become Pharoah, had not an aspirant to the throne, caused him to learn the throne, strove to kill Moses, his Jewish origin, and assuming who, however, escaped and lived the peaceful life of a shepherd until he heard the Divine voice, bidding him return to Egypt and rescue his enslaved countrymen.

Moses, through his position as the "son of Pharoah's daughter," might be said to be born to leadership. He had leadership thrust upon him by Divine command, and he achieved it, when, with unswerving faith in God and his mission, he led the children of Israel out of bondage.

No one knew better than Moses, the strength of Pharoah's armies, his immense influence, his riches, and the place he held among the nations, but strong in the Lord and in the power of His might, he accomplished the seemingly impossible — led an unarmed and utterly defenceless people from the land of the pyramids and many gods, to a land where they could worship the God of their fathers.

These two men were dictators as well as leaders. Their word was undisputed—probably Joseph was supposed to report to his monarch, but apparently he went ahead with his job as he had planned it, from his God-given power of reading dreams.

And Moses was answerable to God. Under Him, his decrees ruled the unstable and often murmuring children of Israel. They were what one would call benevolent dictators—they used their power to give freedom, to save from starvation, and in the case of Moses, to establish a code of conduct, health and morals, that can stand comparison with any we know today.

Two other leaders of the period before Christ come to my mind as I write. Alexander the Great of Macedonia and Julius Caesar, and it is interesting to note the difference between the pagans—great as they were, and those who, acknowledged one God.

Joseph and Moses did everything in the name of the Lord, and under Him, they worked FOR their people, not for their own aggrandisement. They had leadership thrust upon them, and used it wisely.

Alexander was born to leadership and lived and died a leader, but one moved by no humanitarian motives. Conquests, conquests, and more conquests, until he had no more worlds to conquer, this was his motto, and he pursued it as any man who acknowledged no power higher than himself, is bound to do—ruthlessly.

He had moments of generosity; he loved art, and was a lover of learning, and in the city—Alexandria—which he founded in Egypt, were vast treasures of learning—libraries, which, if they had not been ruthlessly destroyed, by later conquerors, would have enriched the world.

He was great—but not in the sense that Joseph and Moses were great. His was the power of the conqueror, the result of force of arms. While Joseph led the Israelites peaceably INTO Egypt and established a nation within a nation and Moses led the descendants of the same people OUT of Egypt without striking a blow, Alexander drove his spiked chariot-wheels over nations whose only fault was that they were something to conquer.

Julius Caesar had the same love of conquest and as Alexander made Macedonia, so Caesar made Rome.

Caesar was a wonderful organizer—his laws, his public works, and his acute and telling pictures, word pictures, live on, he achieved leadership.

It is strange how little happiness there seems to have been in the lives of these rulers and leaders. Perhaps Joseph saw the most happiness and died peacefully, having fulfilled his mission. Moses never gained his full objective—he saw it—but entry into his promised land was denied him. Alexander died unpleasantly and Caesar was murdered. I thought to compare these leaders with some from the after Christ period. So—until next week——.

POLICE COURT

MOONSHINER FINED $500 AND SIX MONTHS

William Graham and Thos. Watson, both of Holland Landing, appeared together on two charges, possessing a still and illegal possession of spirits, in Newmarket police court Tuesday.

Sergeant Smith and Constables Nichol and Ashley of the R.C.M.P. gave evidence against them. Both accused men pleaded not guilty to both charges. Constable Nichol testified that on the morning of May 16 he, with Constables Maskell and Ashley, of the R. C. M. P., investigated a still in King township near the canal and found a still in a clearing in the bush.

On May 18, Constable Nichol testified, he returned with Sergeant Smith and Constable Ashley. The three officers circled in the bush and closed in on the still, aided by the noise of some planes passing overhead.

Constable Nichol swore he had seen both the men at the fire just before they were apprehended. When captured Watson remarked to Constable Nichol, "Too bad you hadn't caught us operating or we would have been caught cold," the constable said.

The officers found the still in operation, with a 45-gallon drum of mash and a two-gallon jug of alcohol that tested 35.2 per cent in the government laboratory. Both Sergeant Smith and Constable Ashley corroborated Constable Nichol's evidence.

Both men in their plea of not guilty said they had been fishing and heard a noise in the bush, had investigated and had been found there when the officers raided the still. Watson had a dry fishing-tackle in his pocket and dough, which he said he had used to make flapjacks that morning.

The officers contended the dough was to plug leaks in the still, Constable Nichol asking Watson if he always made breakfast with his coat on.

Watson denied saying anything to the officers about being "caught cold" and said he had nothing to do with the whole affair. Graham's former record was read in court, showing a previous conviction in June, 1938. Magistrate Woodliffe fined Graham $500 or six months and six months on one charge and $500 or six months on the other and Watson $100 or three months on both charges.

The sentences are to run concurrently. Joseph Vale appeared as special crown prosecutor for the R.C.M.P. in this case.

Accused of the theft of some lengths of iron pipe from the scene of an accident on the Holland Landing hill, Joseph Morton and Roy Bellar pleaded guilty and not guilty respectively. The iron had been disposed of in an Orillia junk-yard, where the proprietor, Louis Francis, became suspicious of the junk because of its newness and called Constable Biles of Orillia.

Bellar was implicated because he had driven the truck.

Morton said he had helped the truckers clear away the wreckage from the scene of the accident and received no pay, so when the pipe was left alongside the road he picked it up and sold it as his remuneration, a few days later.

The pipe was needed as evidence to collect insurance for the Holland Landing accident. Magistrate Woodliffe remarked that he didn't think Morton had flagrantly stolen the pipe and so would suspend sentence on six months probation. He dismissed the charge against Bellar.

The charge against Ned Figleuzzi of King township for possession of a revolver was adjourned till June 11.

Chas. Phillips and Joseph Maguire were charged with the theft of four chickens from the farm of Mrs. Rita Richards in King township. Phillips had an additional charge of illegal possession against him.

Magistrate Woodliffe dismissed the theft charge against Maguire, who pleaded not guilty. On the two charges against Phillips the court imposed a $10 fine or ten days on the first charge and a $5 fine or five days on the second, the sentences to run concurrently. Constable Hayward testified that Phillips was drunk but Maguire was not the day of the offence, and that while Maguire had gone to King City to get repairs for their truck Phillips had stolen the chickens.

PASTOR SEES PRAIRIE FIRE BETTER 60 M.P.H.

By REV. R. R. McMATH

My companion says, "Why do people segregate themselves and live in such small homes anyway?" Oh, for many reasons. Some are trappers and hunters. They make very good money too. There is not much outlay in equipment and furs bring a good financial return. Others are prospectors. Their souls are filled with hope, and the other fellow's "strike" always encourages another. Many, too, are section men. They have charge of a section of the railway. They replace pins and ties and remove debris, and generally keep their section clear, so you and I can travel in safety. It is a lonely life for the section man's wife, but as the old saying goes: "She made her bed and she ought to lie in it."

"He's no Duke, he's no Earl,
He's just working on the railroad.
He's my man, I'm his girl,
And he's working on the railroad.
I would not give him up,
For all the millionaires,
I'd rather share with him
His worries and his cares."

At one stop we made I saw a new Trinity. You see, I can't help expressing myself in theological terms. At one town they had "cleared" a certain portion and used it for a racetrack, an exhibition grounds, and a golf course. "Necessity is the mother of invention." One of the great blessings of living in one of these pioneer places is that people do think and invent. It is not a matter of doing as the other fellow does, but that of making the best of what one has. I have no knowledge of how huge the newspaper business is but it would seem, from the piles of pulpwood one saw, that there is very little possibility of a shortage of paper. Millions of logs were to be seen on the lakes and at the railway stations.

We had an hour off at Winnipeg. Once before I had an hour there and the memory of that hour is still fresh in my mind. I thought the place looked the 19 years older. The city does not seem to have the freshness of the eastern cities. Maybe that is prejudice. However—it was disappointing because of the memory. It paid me quite a tribute, though, so I must have kind feelings towards it. My wife paid the cent and I stepped on the public scales to find I had lost 18 pounds in weight. With the record of my weight I got a nice little card which read, "You are the sort of person who sticks to his high ideals, even in the face of great difficulty." I felt greatly elated and compensated.

Another cheerful moment in our experience that day was while the train was stopped at Regina. We thought we could enjoy our meal much better by eating while the train was still. While sitting in the dining-car we looked across the tracks at another train and in lovely gold letters printed on the side of a coach was the name, "Newmarket."

How many times I had heard about prairie fires! How they ploughed around the schools a few furrows to prevent the fire reaching them. This time I saw one and a real one. I thought the train was travelling about 60 miles per hour, but the fire kept ahead of us. How angry it looked! Let's hope no children returning home from school were in its trail. Prairie fires do not usually harm the new crops as they usually stop when they reach the ploughed ground. Yet, they take quite a toll of fence posts and telephone poles. Indeed, I saw a telephone pole burned completely to the cross pole to which the wires were attached.

Travelling by train the country presents much of a sameness. A big house and a little barn, and then a big barn and a little house. Someone said where there is a big house the woman is boss and where there is a big barn the man is boss. I looked longingly for a farm where there was a big house and a big barn, so both could be boss. Perhaps it is better as it is. Sameness sort of kills things. One town we passed through might well be called the company town. Eight houses were identical. Nothing whatever to distinguish them—not even the color. A sameness of that kind becomes a very drab affair. Wednesday 7.20 and we reach Moose Jaw ten minutes late.

ARE COMPLETING PLANS FOR BIG BAND NIGHTS

Two "Big Band Nights" are being held on Wednesday and Thursday, June 19 and 20, under the auspices of the Newmarket Citizens' band and the R.S.A. bugle band. Under the chairmanship of Alex. Belugin, various committees are working diligently to make these two nights an outstanding success.

The first night, Wednesday, June 19, will be in the form of a brilliant garden party on the beautiful lawns of Mrs. Bacque, Eagle St. The supper, which starts at 5.30 p.m., is being provided by the ladies of the various local churches and this fact in itself is evidence enough that the supper will be a sumptuous one. Following the supper will be various forms of entertainment, including a program of music by the Aurora boys' band, with games and concessions to suit the taste of young and old.

The second night, Thursday, June 20, will be a mammoth street dance and carnival on Main St. south. This occasion is entailing much arranging and expense to make the dance a success. The bands are endeavoring to procure the services of the "olde tyme dance band," the "Arkansas Travellers." This orchestra is outstanding in its line of music and very pleasing in its entertainment. One of the local orchestras will play for the round dancing.

A real carnival spirit will prevail, with games and concessions. The evening will close with a grand draw for valuable prizes, the tickets for which are now on sale by all the band members.

A grand street parade, with prizes for contestants, will precede the garden party on Wednesday June 19, at 7 p.m.

FORMER SUTTON GIRL MARRIED AT WINDSOR

Precious Blood church, Windsor, was the scene of a pretty wedding on May 4, at 9 a.m., when Miss Doris Margerite Fenton, formerly of Sutton, was married to Garry J. Kennedy, of Detroit, Mich., formerly of Cornwall, Ont. Father Donlon officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Daniel Fenton, wore a white gown of organza, made on fitted lines, with heart-shaped neckline and puffed sleeves. Her veil fell to finger-tip length and was held in place by a tiara of orange blossoms. An arm bouquet of American beauty roses formed the bridal bouquet.

Miss Ethel Fenton, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She was frocked in a chiffon gown of pale pink and wore a white picture hat and shoes. She carried pink carnations and fern. Mr. Frank Hellferty assisted as best man.

A wedding breakfast was served at "The Manor," followed by a reception at the home of the bride. Mrs. W. Dell, the bride's mother, received with the bridal party, in a gown of teal blue and corsage of roses. Due to illness, Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the bridegroom, was unable to be present.

Another sister, Veronica (Bonnie) Fenton, became the bride of Mr. David C. Murphy, Windsor, at St. Bridgid church, Toronto, last Dec. 16.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of teal blue and wine accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses. Miss Adele Whelan attended as bridesmaid, dressed in teal blue of darker shade and black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses. Mr. Morley Whelan was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy now reside in Windsor.

GOLDSHIRTS

ing and soon belted out three runs. The local infield blew up. Ness got on through an error, Archibald went out, but Foote came through with a hit to score Ness, and scored a moment later when Syder doubled. Riddell passed away and Clark got on through an error, Syder scoring to make it 3-0.

Again in the first of the second the Thorns came through, Burton leading off with a hit. Hilliard walked, Ness struck out, Archibald came through with a drive to right that brought Burton and Hilliard home, but she was nipped at the plate on a fine throw by Marg. Hisey.

Then Joyce Foote walked and Syder rapped out a triple to bring Foote home and make the score 6-0. This rally was the last time a Thornhill girl crossed the plate.

In the second Newmarket came to life and sent four runs across the plate. Brown walked, Osborne singled, Raymond singled to bring Brown home. Andrews got on through Syder's error. With the bases full Marj. Hisey doubled through second to score the three runners and the score was 6-4.

From the second the southern team went out in order while the heavy artillery of the local girls began barking. The runs came in so fast yours truly just about lost count. In the third the Goldshirts added nine runs to make it 13-6 when they batted all around in a real scoring spree. The Thornhill infield committed four errors and threw the old pill around like a bunch of first-grade kids at public school.

Again in the fourth the locals rang in seven markers. Their best rally was in the sixth when 12 runs crossed the plate. The Hill team gave up the ghost and threw the ball every place but the right one. The way the team threw the pill around took the steam out of Archibald, who hurled a steady game in the mound and with any kind of support would have given the locals a stiff argument. With all the wild throwing and butterfingering, the score went up like a forest fire.

All the local girls shone at the plate, with at least one hit each. The fielding features were supplied by Marg. Hisey, Mary Osborne and Marj. Raymond. For the south Muriel Archibald on the mound and at bat turned in a nice game. So did Joyce Foote, the receiver. Connie Burton pulled off a swell catch in centre when she robbed Mary Osborne of a sure triple. At bat B. Syder was the big gun with a double and a single.

BAPTISTRY USED AGAIN IN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

After an idleness of ten years, the baptismal tank in the Christian church was used again when six young people went through the waters of baptism last Sunday evening.

Rev. Arthur Greer conducted the service.

When the pipe organ was installed in the church, the baptistry was transferred to the church basement. Some were afraid that this would not provide a particularly attractive setting for the ordinance, but this was remedied by dint of tasteful decoration. Cedars and ferns, with a blending of flowers, were placed around the pool with the effect of making it appear just like an outdoor scene.

The congregation was favored by the presence of Rev. D. A. Burns, instructor in Toronto Bible College. Mr. Burns gave a dynamic and timely message.

Among many other illuminating things the speaker said was the following: "People are wondering whether this tottering world will survive the present onslaught of bestial forces. But undoubtedly the world will survive, and my authority for such a statement is the Cross of Christ. Jesus did not die for this world only to let it succumb to some earthly power; He will intervene to preserve the world for which He shed His blood."

Y.M.C.A. FUND PASSES $1,000

WAS 86 YEARS OF AGE BUT NEVER GREW OLD

Noted for her youthfulness and her never-failing interest in everybody and everything, Mrs. Annie Smith Boag, wife of the late James Boag, died at the home of her son, R. L. Boag, 21 Church St., on Sunday.

Mrs. Boag had been in failing health for the last year, and her strength was not sufficient to throw off an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Mrs. Boag enjoyed particularly the company of young people and delighted to attend church young people's meetings.

Rev. Arthur Greer conducted the service. Six nephews, John M. Kellington, Queensville R.R., Parker Smith, Aurora, R.R. 2, Everett Smith, Queensville, W. H. Eves, Newmarket, Prof. Ernest Smith, University of Toronto, and Everton Smith, Newmarket, acted as pallbearers.

Mrs. Boag was in her 87th year, the last surviving member of a family of four brothers and seven sisters, the children of Elizabeth and John Smith of East Gwillimbury. She was born in East Gwillimbury, northeast of Queensville.

She married James Boag, who came to Canada from Newcastle, England. Her husband died in 1922 at the age of 73. R. L. Boag, registrar of deeds, Newmarket, is the only surviving member of a family of five. Another son, Roy, died in western Canada, leaving two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Shelton, Alberta Beach, Alta., and Miss Mazo Boag, Hardisty, Alta.

Mrs. Boag as a girl attended the Union St. Christian church, now gone out of existence, and in recent years has attended Newmarket Christian church. She has lived with her son since the death of her husband.

RED CROSS ASKS FOR GOOD USED CLOTHING

The local Red Cross Society is making a special appeal to the public. A second call has come from the headquarters of the Red Cross for good second-hand clothing for the refugees, adults and children. It will be appreciated if articles can be delivered to the Red Cross rooms.

The local Red Cross is a hive of industry and activity since the appeal for funds and clothing for refugees.

Several groups have been formed under different able leaders. Miss Daniels will convene a group of workers to make surgical dressings, meeting at the rooms on Monday evening of each week.

Then on Tuesday evening Mrs. Wesley Brooks will have charge, and Miss Nesbitt of the York county hospital staff on Thursday evening, from 7.30 to 10.

These ladies will be grateful for the public's response to this call. The need is very urgent. They would like to make it clear that they don't expect ladies to come to work all the appointed time, but if they can spare an hour, or half an hour, to please come along, as these supplies have to be shipped at the earliest possible date.

Anyone desiring information about the work might please call Mrs. Brooks, 177, or Miss Aileen Arnold, 449.

On Thursday afternoons the dressings will be made in the Bosworth block, above the former A. & P. store, from 2 to 6 p.m. The Red Cross rooms are open every day.

ATHLETES STAR AT 13TH SPORTS DAY

The blue team, captained by E. Onyschuck, was the winning group at the 13th annual field day held at Pickering College on Saturday. They captured 224 points. The silver team, under Robert LeBrocq, came second with 219 points, while the reds, under W. Guberman, came third with 152.

Although there were showers elsewhere in York county the rain held off at Newmarket and enabled all events to be held. No records were broken this year. In the senior division Stewart Henry made three wins.

Harris, a senior, Haskell, an intermediate, and J. Frosst, a junior, also made a number of points for their teams.

Following the athletic events many guests were entertained at afternoon tea.

GETS HONORS

Jack Dales, B.A. (1939), secured honors in his third year examinations in medicine. Joe Dales also passed his third year in arts with honors. They are the sons of Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Dales, Newmarket, and are attending the University of Toronto.

—Mrs. Bert Redditt of Havelock is still at the home of Mr. George Redditt, her father-in-law. Mr. Redditt is still in a serious condition.

Tall Story Department

Norah, who kept a small fruit stand in Dublin, was displaying a few watermelons. An American visitor, trying to tease her, picked up one and said, "These are very small green apples you grow over here. In America we have them twice that size."

Norah looked the visitor over from head to foot, then, with pity in her voice, exclaimed, "Oh, sir, ye must be a sthranger in Oireland, and know virry little about the fruit of our counthry, whin ye can't tell apples from gooseberries."

Out of the Frying Pan

Frederick was visiting his Aunt Matilda, and was trying hard to mind his manners. As he was tasting hesitatingly at a rather small bowl of unfamiliar liquid his aunt remarked, "Don't you like the soup, Frederick?"

"Oh, yes," he exclaimed eagerly, "it's very good soup—what there is of it."

And then, realizing in consternation what he had said, Freddie rushed on: "And there's plenty of it, too—such as it is."

Why Bother To Have It PRINTED?

"Why do I have anything printed? I think of two reasons:

(1) Because it would be too laborious to write or type the same information on a letterhead or billhead each time I want to use one, or to write out 50 or 100 posters.

(2) Because printing is more attractive than anything most people can do by hand.

"And so, because the attractiveness of printing is one of the main reasons for buying it, I make sure when I buy printing that I get attractive printing, artistic and accurate work on a good and suitable paper.

"I have confidence in Newmarket Era printers, because they bear these points in mind. They always give me an attractive piece of printing at an attractive price."

Firm Hand Brings In $4,000 In Arrears, Talk Tax Sale

Citizens Co-operate With Council In Clean-Up Effort

So successful have been the firm methods adopted by the finance committee in regard to tax arrears, Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks told Aurora town council on Monday that to date about $4,000 had been received by the municipality and most of those in arrears are making a real effort to meet the situation and avoid a tax sale.

"We wish to avoid a tax sale altogether if we can," said the deputy-reeve, announcing that the proposed tax sale by-law would be held over until next meeting. "But we know our policy is right and is sound and we're not relaxing on the job one little bit. We believe another month will improve the situation still more, but those who won't meet the committee will be summarily dealt with."

"I would like to see a drive made on all those two years in arrears," said Mayor J. M. Walton. "I know we can't force them to pay, but it's easier to deal with the defaulters now when the penalties haven't piled up. We get good interest in the end but we'd rather have cash now and it'd be easier for all of us."

"We should act now," said Councillor John Stuart. "There'll be another depression after this war probably and we should try to get settlement before things get tough."

IT'S A TIME FOR ACTION!

One of our town councillors remarked on Monday evening that after this war there was likely to be a depression and that the town should get in its tax arrears now before things "get tough."

If it is important that we should get in tax arrears, how much more important it is that we should maintain (1) our assessment and (2) the tax-paying ability of our citizens.

Now is the time to take action to find a new industry which will replace the Fleury-Bissell firm. It takes time to find an industry, and it takes energy, and it takes persistence.

Replacement of the Fleury-Bissell industry is important for two reasons: (1) to hold the assessment of the Fleury-Bissell buildings, which are to be torn down if new occupants are not found; (2) to assure a livelihood to citizens thrown out of employment and to replace those who remove with the Fleury-Bissell firm, so that Aurora real estate values (and assessments) may be maintained at present levels.

When assessments go down, tax rates go up!

Energetic and intelligent searching for a new industry will be rewarded. To prevent a future reduction in assessment and a consequent increase in taxation, to avoid a reduction in our town payroll and consequently in the tax-paying ability of our citizens, our town council would be justified in spending at least $1,000 this year in advertising, promotion and, possibly, in travelling expenses, in an effort to capitalize on Aurora's advantages as a manufacturing centre.

One step should be to contact the federal departments of immigration and trade and commerce to explore the possibility of attracting refugee European capitalists and manufacturers.

Another step should be to advertise in financial periodicals Aurora's advantages, and another step should be to prepare attractive printed matter to send to Ottawa and to inquirers.

We can secure new industries if we go after them, intelligently, perseveringly and fairly. If we wait for a new industry to come to us we may have a long wait. Or if we accept an industry which would cease with the war we might find an acute unemployment problem on our hands when "things get tough."

BARRIE COLLEGIANS WIN IN A WALK 12-2

(By BARRIE EXAMINER)

Barrie Collegians left no doubt in the minds of 200 spectators at the Shear Park diamond Tuesday night, when they walloped the Aurora nine 12 to 2 in their second start in the Simcoe softball association.

Three innings slipped by with each team managing a hit each and going into the fourth it looked like a pitcher's duel all the way. Aurora counted one run of the tainted variety in the first half and in the Barrie chukker with two away the ball game was won and lost.

The parade started when Laking worked a walk. He was followed by Soue, who popped out, but Taylor was safe on an error. Maurice Hines worked a walk to load the bases and Gracey came through with the bingle that put the game away. The ball lit in short centre, but White, attempting a shoe-string catch, let the ball get away and three runs passed over.

After that it was a matter of time. Marshall and Norris singled and Steve Hines came through with a clean cut triple that proved the final dash of salt to the visitors' winning possibilities.

That frame and the last half of the sixth were the only two in which the Educators could work a run across. In their final trip to the plate another pass to M. Hines proved the undoing, as Marshall doubled and was followed by Norris and S. Hines with safe bingles. "Pub" Urry counted the final tally with a long clout to centre for the circuit with Hines on the paths.

Harry Couse served up nice ball getting stronger as the game wore on. He deserved a shut-out until a groove ball to Lowe in the final frame went for four. Lowe also counted the first tally when he doubled, went to third on a wild pitch and came in on a passed ball. Only four men faced Couse in that frame. All told the Cookstown lad fanned seven, allowed five hits and failed to hand out a pass. He was given air-tight support.

Shore started on the Aurora mound and pitched nice ball until he was taken out in the fourth. Two errors and two walks in that innings proved his downfall. Lowe was brought and he retired the side and worked well in the fifth. In the sixth Shore re-appeared to get the last two men. Shore fanned four, walked two and was nicked for five hits in the five and two thirds innings he worked. Lowe fanned three, walked one and allowed five hits in one and two third innings.

The game was featured by several spectacular plays. Hodgins in the first frame robbed Laking of a hit. Taylor pulled his specialty running in right field to cut off W. White's bid and Maurice Hines grabbed the limelight snaring a hot liner and doubling Tom Birchard off first base for the only double play.

KETTLEBY

EARLY MEMBERS ARE HONORED AT JUBILEE

The Ladies' Aid celebrated their golden jubilee Tuesday evening with great success. The church was filled.

The program was exceptionally fine. Mrs. Marie Draper Lyons, Newmarket, sang two solos, and there was also a double trio from Newmarket under Mrs. Lyons' direction. They gave several numbers which were lovely.

Miss Ball from Eversley was the elocutionist, and a saxophone quartet, which was simply grand, played a few numbers.

J. M. Walton, mayor of Aurora, also addressed the gathering and gave some back history of the church.

Mrs. Alice Thompson, of Toronto, who was the only member present that was a member 50 years ago when it was organized, was presented with a Bible from J. M. Walton.

Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, a member for 38 years, and Mrs. E. Barradell, a member for 33 years, were presented with addresses. The church was decorated with lovely flowers, and a big bowl containing 50 golden tulips was in the centre of the front, with golden candles placed on each side. There was a delicious lunch. A lot of old friends were back for the occasion.

The new president, Mrs. A. Farren, presided at the first meeting of the Women's Institute last Thursday, with an attendance of 18. The roll call was answered by a humorous story.

Mrs. E. Fry and Mrs. P. Ball gave splendid reports on the district convention held in Keswick.

The meeting was held at Ann Harmon's home. Mrs. Fry also gave a paper on motherhood and Mrs. Ball a paper on dates of the empire. The hostesses were Ann Harmon and Mrs. Jones.

"EVERY DOG HAS HIS DAY" AT AURORA HORSE SHOW SATURDAY, ENTRIES MANY

The Aurora horse show is being held on Saturday. A. M. Kirkwood, the hard-working secretary, told The Era that entries still continue to pour in, and Saturday would probably see a record entry, and if nice weather continues, a record crowd. The hunter and light horse classes will see competition unexcelled at any show in Ontario. Entries in the women's sections are also well up over previous years.

The Aurora boys' band will be on hand to provide the music. An added feature of the show this year is a dog show, which will be held in the east show ring, about 1 p.m. Dogs of all breeds, ages and sexes will be entered in one huge class, with five first prizes, to be awarded as follows: best behaved dog; performance with adult handler; performance with juvenile handler; cutest dog in show; best dog in show. Victor Blochin of Silverdale farm, Aurora, will be the judge of this section. The committee in charge includes Dr. C. R. Boulding, Victor Blochin, G. Wyatt Baldwin and W. C. Waite.

kill.

Fred Norris led the Barrie batters with three safe bunts. Marshall hit two safeties including a double and S. Hines collected a single and a triple. Urry's homer and singles by Taylor and Gracey completed the collegians' attack. Lowe with two hits and Cook, R. White and Birchard, former Barrie boy, with safeties compiled the Aurora total.

Verse

They were discussing a silver butter dish which they planned to send some newly-weds. What should they put on the card accompanying the gift?

"Anything you like," suggested the husband.

So the wife thought a while, and then wrote: "For butter—or worse."

The Elevator

"Did you enjoy it?" asked her father.

"Yes, but it was so funny, Dad," answered the child. "When we went into the little house, the upstairs came down."

Public Official, Lodgeman, M. L. Andrews Dies Suddenly

Was Active In Church Where Funeral Held Today

With the death of Morley L. Andrews, Aurora suffered the loss of one of its best known figures and most faithful public servants. He died suddenly at York county hospital, Newmarket. Mr. Andrews had been in ill health for the past few years, and only on Monday of last week commenced a three months leave of absence from the town clerk's office. He was in his 60th year.

Mr. Andrews came of pioneer York county stock. His father was the late James J. Andrews and his mother was before her marriage, Melina Davis. He was born in Vaughan township and attended public school at Snowball and received his secondary education at Aurora high school.

He married Alma Stephens of Newmarket and spent some years farming in western Canada at Reston, Man. On his return to the east, he lived in Newmarket, and came to Aurora about 25 years ago, where he conducted a coal, wood, and lumber business for many years.

Always a keen student of public affairs, Mr. Andrews soon took public office. He was first elected school trustee and served as chairman of the board on more than one occasion.

Later he was elected to the municipal council and for seven terms was returned to office, heading, at one time or other, every municipal department and obtaining an insight into the affairs of the town surpassed by no one.

On the death of C. A. Petch, he retired from council to accept the office of town clerk, and for 13 years as clerk, and one year as assistant he was always to be found at the clerk's office, with local affairs at his fingertips. During his time many important changes were inaugurated in the town offices and the system in vogue was entirely modernized. For ten years he carried on alone the heavy duties of the office. He was recognized throughout York county as one of the leading authorities on municipal law and procedure.

He was a member of Rising Sun Masonic lodge and of Aurora No. 148 I.O.D.E. He held from time to time every office among the Oddfellows and his lodge work was a model of perfection and dignity. He was honored by being elected Worthy Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Ontario by his brethren throughout Ontario. His son, Oscar, is the present N. G. of the lodge.

Reading, bridge, and bowling were Mr. Andrews' chief means of recreation. There was probably no person in Aurora regarded as a better player or authority on bridge. He was secretary of the Aurora lawn bowling club at the time of his death.

For many years he played an active part in the affairs of the Aurora United church, where the funeral service was held today. He was a member of the session and one of the board of trustees. The funeral service was in the charge of the pastor, Rev. Dr. E. J. Thompson, and Hon. Flight Lt. Rev. G. O. Lightbourn. The music was under the direction of David Ouchterlony of St. Andrew's College.

Pallbearers were Charles Fry, A. A. Cook, Charles Malloy, Fred Davis, Victor Jones and Norman Eade. Interment was in Newmarket cemetery.

He leaves surviving him besides his widow, one son, Oscar L., and two daughters, Marjorie and Bertha, of Aurora; one sister, Mrs. Arthur Harris, of Arcola, Sask., and two brothers, Wellington and George F., of Broomhill, Man. The funeral was widely attended, with all public bodies in attendance as well as representatives from practically every municipality in the county.

RELIEF DWINDLES, NO RELIEF LABOR LEFT

Relief continues to be a diminishing problem, and practically all those now on relief are in ill-health or unable to do much work, Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Gunton reported to Aurora town council Monday evening. There is practically no relief labor available for town work.

Expenditures for May were $200.40, a decrease of $170.59 from the April figures and a drop of $151.85 from May, 1939. There are now 13 families, embracing 57 persons, left on the rolls, as compared to 18 families and 81 persons last month and 24 families and 96 all told this time a year ago.

"We have received five applications for land, and seven families have asked for seed for the war gardens," Councillor Gunton told the council. "There are still one or two individuals who are evading the issue, and will be sorry for it when winter comes."

Last Saturday he had as relief officer personally checked each individual family, he said. He found little to complain about.

"I see an item for $9.60 for relief in the general fund for a man who is in Toronto," said Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks. "They seem to treat them very generously in the city. I see he got nearly $50 altogether. There are lots of working men who don't make that but pay their way."

"We'll have to pay it and like it," said Councillor John Stuart. "The rule is that we have to pay where a man moves away from here, even though he wasn't on relief here, when he isn't off relief for a year in that municipality."

"Since our hands are tied we will get no return nor have any control in the matter and will have to pay our 20 per cent to big-hearted Toronto," said Dr. Gunton.

"Has this man's residence been checked?" asked Councillor A. J. G. Wilson. "I think he's been away long enough to be off our hands."

"We tried to prove that, but haven't been able to do so," said Councillor Gunton.

"Are there any molders out of work here?" asked Councillor Wilson. "I know a man that can place six."

"I don't know of any, but there may be some from Fleury-Bissell's available," said Mayor Walton. "I see Elora has started to build the houses now. I understand 13 are under construction right away."

Eversley

"What is so rare as a day in June?" This is blossom time and the cherry, plum, pear and apple trees are a drift of bloom. When it is so beautiful here in the country, what must it be like in the regular fruit belt? God is a lover of beauty and in June He showers the earth with it.

"Ilka blade o' grass has its ain drop o' dew," and who would lie abed and miss the miracle of the dew-laden grass, sparkling in diamonds, emeralds, topaz and opals? It is fascinating, marvellous to watch the gems in the grass.

All were glad to see W. Shropshire back at church after his long illness.

Thomas Marshall is not any better, and his next door neighbor, Stephen McNurtney, is ill in the Western hospital.

The Eversley strawberry festival is dated for July 2, to be held on the beautiful grounds of the Elliott estate.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bowen and Roy attended the anniversary services held on Sunday at Hope and Laskay United churches. It was an ideal day for those services.

Eversley W.M.S. is hoping to have Rev. J. C. Ross of Bolton give his lecture and slides in Eversley church on Wednesday night, June 19.

The great event of last week was the Eaton-McEachern wedding. Folks here viewed it from afar. After the ceremony in Eaton Memorial church, the procession of cars was preceded by a motorcycle guard and one at the rear.

The roads from this corner up had been cleaned, almost swept, so clean were they for the occasion. Later six covered vans containing all the delectables for the dainty luncheon passed.

The Eaton Hall farm and Lady Eaton's palace are show places in this neighborhood.

BORDEN FLIERS LOSE OPENER TO REDS 14-10

Hilton went down on strikes, Cain homered to the racetrack fence and Gibney followed with a double to right field. The fliers added a single run in their half of the fourth.

With a 7-5 lead, the reds, in the first half of the fifth, broke out again in a rash of five runs in a hitting barrage that had the blues ragged. VanZant started the rally with a double to right and Bulmer followed with a single in the same place. Luck struck out, Niles singled, scoring VanZant and Bulmer. Giles beat out a bunt and Hilton singled to score Niles and Giles and came in himself a minute later when the fliers were throwing the ball around.

Not to be outdone, the fliers came right back with five counters in their half of the sixth. Walker opened with a single and Gibb followed with another. Carden, following with another one-baser, scored Walker. Gallop scratched a hit to the infield and Gibb scored.

Gallop went to second, where he injured his leg, and Gibb went back to run for him. Miller walked and Wade lashed a single to right, scoring Carden and Gibb.

Niles went to the showers and Webster came in. Big Alex. fanned Whittaker but McLees drove a long fly to right that Harvey Gibney misjudged, and Wade and Miller scored to bring the blue team, with a 10-12 score, within a ball's throw of victory.

Gibb went back to the mound for the airmen in the sixth and, despite his "screwball," the locals went after him for two runs that were enough to cinch the decision. The blues went out in order in the seventh, with "Whimpy" Webster bearing down on every pitch.

Although touched frequently, Gibb on the mound pitched a steady game for the fliers. His support failed him on several occasions. Gallop on the hot corner, Miller in the centre-field and McLees on the initial sack looked the cream.

The boys of the home brigade turned in a worthy effort and one real feature was the batting power displayed.

Camp Borden: Hellman c-rf, Walker 2b, Gibb p-c, Carden ss, Gallop 3b, Miller cf, Wade lf, Whittaker rf-p, McLees, 1b.

Newmarket: Giles 2b, Hilton ss, Cain cf, Gibney rf, Peters 1b, VanZant c, Wright lf, Luck 3b, Niles p, Bulmer lf (in the 5th for Wright), Webster p (in 6th for Niles).

WHITCHURCH

Only $400 Off $1,500,000 Value, Is Revision Result

WHITCHURCH COUNCIL ALLOWS ONLY FOUR ASSESSMENT APPEALS

Only nine appeals were filed against the million and a half dollar assessment in the township of Whitchurch, it was disclosed when the council resolved into a court of revision last Saturday to deal with complaints. The net change was a reduction of $400, two appellants obtaining $100 cuts and one, $200. All other appeals were dismissed.

It was decided to investigate the claim of the Lake Simcoe Ice Co. that their property near Yonge St. contained 120.75 acres, whereas it is assessed as 196 acres. The court couldn't believe the land was short, but, according to Mr. Rogers, who presented the appeal, W. A. Gibson & Son had made a survey and found the discrepancy complained of. The company pay taxes on an assessment of $3,760.

It was a noticeable fact that not a single resident farmer entered an appeal. The nearest approach was when George Foot, on the Markham-Whitchurch townline (a Markham resident), asked for a reduction on his Whitchurch farm, which he maintained had grown into disrepair through a period of time in the hands of tenants.

Reeve Earl Tuck presided over the court, which comprised Deputy-Reeve Jesse Cook, Councillors Herb. Wells, Herman Kidd and George Leary. The members were duly sworn in by Clerk John Crawford.

The actual appeals and dispositions in each case were: Mrs. Annie Hobson, Toronto, assessment too high on lot 5, plan 134, Wilcox Lake). Reduced $100.

James Fairhead estate, Toronto, assessment too high on lot 28, con. 1, east and west parts. Clerk and assessor to check up.

Lake Simcoe Ice Co., Toronto, over-assessed at Wilcox Lake, to be checked up.

Frank Harvey, Gormley, over-assessed on his property at lot 1, con. 4. Assessment sustained.

Bruce F. Hunter, Newmarket, assessment too high on his residence, lot 24, con. 1, near Newmarket. Reduced $50.

Mrs. Frank Prosser, Newmarket, wrongfully assessed for house at lot 26, con. 1. Assessment was made in accordance with a judge's order directing Mrs. Prosser to pay the taxes. She appears to hold a life interest in the house built as a separate dwelling on the farm left by her late husband. Mrs. Prosser maintained her son had to pay the taxes, but the son, who appeared in court, challenged the claim of his mother. The taxes involved a total of about $7.

Mrs. Elizabeth Beacon, Toronto, assessment too high on lot 12, plan 191 (Wilcox Lake). Assessment sustained.

J. C. Linton, Toronto, over-assessment at Wilcox Lake. Assessment sustained.

George Foot, assessed for $3,300 on lot 5, con. 3, received a cut of $100 on buildings.

The country is beautiful, with so many trees in bloom and so much greenery everywhere, except for the tar on the road. A great many people enjoyed the weekend in the country at their summer homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sherman spent the weekend in Port Carling with Mrs. Sherman's sister, who has a summer cottage there.

SLAPS 'N' SCRAPS

HERE THERE EVERY-WHERE

By Ralph M. Adams

So the old man's team of the softball group are slowing up, eh? Well, it certainly didn't look that way last Friday evening against the airmen.

Not only was the old oomph there with the willow but the aging outfield turned in a first-class game despite the raving of my worthy friend that all the redmen possessed was team spirit and a gang of cagy veterans.

Incidentally, the big guns of the offensive department were three of the veterans, VanZant, who clicked through with three hits, and Cain and Gibney, who collected a brace apiece, the former cracking out the first homer of the season.

Niles, after a shaky start, settled away and hurled good ball until the sixth, when Webster came in and stopped the fliers cold.

Gibb, who hurled most of the game for the air force, has a peculiar delivery that almost looks illegal because of the funny way the ball leaves his hand, but with a few more games under his belt this boy will take some beating.

The one-handed running catch of Peters' long drive in the early part of the game by Miller was the best fielding play of the night and the local fans gave the centrefielder a real hand. He certainly earned a cheer.

Red Whittaker, who relieved Gibb on the mound for two innings, shows promise of developing into a fair hurler with a little more practice. Of course, his support was not just up to par either.

Gallop at third and McLees at the initial sack were the pick of the infield, the former in particular sparkling in his effort at the hot corner.

The opening game pushed the Redmen off on the right foot, as they again registered a triumph in their first out-of-town game when they eased out a 5-3 win over the Hillers Tuesday.

Lefty Glover, the kid southpaw, hurled a real effort, letting the Hill down with five hits and three runs, although two of the hits were homers.

Again the locals displayed real power with the willow to pound the Hill moundsmen for five runs, besides backing Glover up with fine fielding.

Two of the best plays of the game were the drive that "Peewee" Hilton took on the dead run back of second base and the stop Jack Luck pulled on a hot liner to nab the man at first.

Not bad, I'd say for a bunch of old cripples, a couple of green kids and a jug of team spirit. Two wins in two starts, so we will see what happens tonight when the ancient rivals clash on the field and on the press bench.

Along the grapevine . . . I too noticed that spring is here and some people will no doubt expect apologies and I do to some degree . . . We notice Jimmy Lowe the ace winger of the Aurora hockey squad is expected to take the mound duties over on the softball team . . . Don't tell us that the boys are going to have to toil at sports the year around to keep their jobs . . . Those who aren't playing county softball are playing industrial . . . I suppose just to keep in shape . . . It's a nice way of doing that little thing . . .Two new faces on the Redmen, Wright and Bulmer, displayed their wares in the opener and each played half the game . . . Wright was just a little plate shy, but Bulmer came through with a corking single on his first appearance . . . Don't forget the game tonight, heat or no heat . . . So long.

PEPPER AND SALT

By "PEP"

The Redmen did some high flying at the expense of the R.C.A.F., Camp Borden, last Thursday in the opening game of the season. And now it can be told that high jinks aren't exclusively the property of airmen. However, it was only greater experience which saved the day for the Holmesmen. That and the brilliant pitching of Wes Niles, who until he grew tired, was a veritable Ecclestone and some nice relief hurling espoused by Alex. Webster turned the trick. Fielding flops let the greatest amount of water through the dike.

Herb Cain turned the admonitions (after two should-have-beens slipped from his grasp) of the record crowd to cheers when he socked out a homer over the usual right field line of cars. The perennial home run champ is on his way again and only a high one on the inside will stop him, or will it? Young Jack Wright looked scared in the left field, but from past experience with the stuff Jack is made of we can state that he has the necessary ability and heart to stick on and eventually star on the club. Chuck VanZant is at least another season up on Lou Gehrig and looks as if he can take this one in stride. His three-bagger was a revelation to every carpet-bagger in the peanut stands.

Camp Borden has almost a city of men from which to pick its softball players and with the moving and shuffling that is going on they hardly expect to assemble the same team for more than a solo appearance. From a Newmarket standpoint, they provided as popular an opposition as any rival team that has ever played here and got cheer for cheer from the crowd. These men of the skies have that dreamy look which is a characteristic of many true fighting men—I think it was Kipling who said that such men were dangerous when the chips were down.

With a few exceptions, the times made and distances jumped by Pickering College athletes in their sports day Saturday were not quite up to the standard set by the collegians of other years. Stu. Henry made some fine distance runs, clocking 56.8 seconds for the 440 yd. killer-diller and took the 880 run in 2m. 33s. Haskell, an intermediate, won the 440 in just a second slower time than did Henry, a senior, and beat Henry's time in the half-mile run. Long-limbed McComb easily was the best senior jumper; he failed by a small margin to break his own pole-vault record. The blue team led by E. Onyschuk scored 224 points and won the meet.

And you can slap me down as a sentimentalist, but I must confess that the greatest part of my spectating was taken up in looking at what the French would call Les Mademoiselles or Les Lovelies ranged along the sidelines.

Jack O'Halloran, mercantile hockey league star, had his car badly smashed in collision with another vehicle near Sharon Sunday morning. The luck of the Irish stuck with Jack and he suffered little damage in the encounter. Those two neon light addicts, Jack Duncan and Bruce Ingledew, slipped across this information.

With Joe Spillette, for years a gob of color in the Newmarket softball picture, vacating the dug-out to assume equal status with the third and fourth estates who populate the stands, a veritable mine of information is missing to the same fourth estate or writing gentry. Other teams and audiences, who centred their attack in a good-natured way on Joe, also will be disappointed with his absence from the prexyship this year.

Natural to Joe was the knack of instilling enthusiasm and fight into his players, even when the Redmen were on the wrong end of a lopsided score. Joe can now take his turn at ragging the man that steers the wheel if he so wishes. A change is as good as a vacation.

Maple Hill

It was a real treat to have such a beautiful day Sunday.

On Sunday evening the pastor took his message from Acts, 2, chapter 6, Paul before Agrippa, speaking mostly on verse 28, "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian."

The community was pleased to have Mrs. A. Knights at the service on Sunday after her illness.

Friends are also pleased to hear Mrs. Stuart Wight is improving nicely in the Western hospital, Toronto.

Several young people from this vicinity took in the sports' day at Mount Albert on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knights and Mary Carol spent Sunday in Toronto.

Miss Ethel Gordon spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Wm. McGill.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marritt, Claremont, and Donald, of Toronto, visited at the home of Fred Knights on Sunday.

Queensville

Mr. and Mrs. William McGenerty, Queensville, Ont., celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Sunday, May 26. Mr. McGenerty is 89 years old and his wife is 68.

They have two sons, two daughters, 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Pastor Belongs To National Boys' Board, Wife To Girls'

The new pastor of Keswick United church and his wife take to their work exceptional gifts and unusual experience in young people's work.

Rev. Gordon Lapp is a native of Brighton, Northumberland county, member of a family which settled there about 1800. His great-great-grandfather, Jeremiah Lapp, came from Pennsylvania and took up land to the northeast of Cobourg. His grandfather and later his father edited and published the Brighton Ensign, a weekly paper. This business is still in the family, being now carried on by his mother and sister. He worked in the business for five years, on both mechanical and editorial ends, and, among other accomplishments, can operate a linotype.

REV. GORDON LAPP

His great-great-grandfather and great-grandfather were Quakers, but when his grandfather left home and located in Brighton there was no Quaker meeting. So he "went Methodist," so to speak. That means that he comes from the Methodist side of the United church house. He grew up in the Methodist church and Sunday-school in Brighton.

On his mother's side he is of Scottish and Irish descent—the "Gordon" was her maiden name. He came to the ministry via the Tuxis and Trail Ranger movement for boys, the boys' parliament of Ontario (he was premier in 1925) and young people's work generally.

When he was 22 he went to Alberta to serve as secretary of boys' work for the Religious Education Council of Alberta. He was there three years and returned to Ontario to do similar work for four years.

Then he spent four years in college in Toronto, graduating from Emmanuel College in 1937.. During college years he was part-time secretary for boys' work with the Religious Education Council of Canada.

During the seven years (three in Alberta and four in Ontario) and to a lesser extent during the college years) he was in summer camp work (boys' and young people's) and did a good deal in the way of Sunday-school conventions, conferences, teacher-training, etc.

MRS. GORDON LAPP

He met his wife in Alberta. She is a native of that province, although her people are Ontario folks who went west about 1903-4. He met her through this work of religious education, she having grown up in the Canadian Girls in Training, pretty much as Mr. Lapp grew up in the Tuxis movement. She was a teacher in Alberta and did a good deal of camp work and other forms of church girls' work. At present she is a member of the national girls' work board of the R.E.C.C. and Mr. Lapp is a member of the national boys' work board.

Mr. Lapp was ordained in June, 1937, three years ago, and has since been assistant minister at the Westminster Central church, Toronto,. For two years he has been chairman of the Christian education committee of Toronto centre presbytery.

KESWICK

WILL HEAR WOMAN DOCTOR FROM INDIA

The Keswick branch of the Canadian Red Cross society held a meeting on Monday evening in the public school. Because of present conditions on the war front, it was decided to resume the work meetings during the summer. There will be work meetings held on Tuesday afternoons. The place where these meetings will be held will be announced later. A large attendance is desired.

An appeal, along with the appeals from the other branches of the Red Cross Societies of Canada, is being made for donations of blankets. Both new and good used blankets are acceptable for the use of wounded soldiers and refugees. These blankets may be left at Vail's store. Will everyone please save old kid gloves, old clean rags and tin cans that have been washed. Money can be obtained for these last named articles, to be used for Red Cross funds. Will all members of the society please remember to give their monthly donations in response to the circular letter sent out last month.

The grandmothers' meeting of the Lakeside Women's Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon, May 29, at the home of Mrs. J. Baines. Mrs. Wm. Vail had charge of the grandmothers' part of the meeting. The grandmothers sang "The Maple Leaf," Mrs. Willoughby accompanying them. Mrs. Friend Morton read a very interesting newspaper extract on "The Crofters of the Hebrides."

On the island of Lewis, the famous Harris tweed is made by the crofters. This tweed can be identified by the smell of "peat-reek". Mrs. Vaughan sang, dressed in old-fashioned costume, "My Grandfather's Girl," in a very charming manner. Mrs. Pegg accompanied Mrs. Vaughan on the piano. Mrs. Vail read a very interesting reading on "Friendship Village," by Zona Gale.

The meeting closed with lunch and a cup of tea, after which a vote of thanks was moved to Mrs. Baines for the use of her home.

The Women's Missionary Society of Keswick United church will hold a special June rally on Thursday afternoon, June 13. A great many missionary societies from the surrounding districts are being invited.

Mrs. David Davidson, a missionary from India, is to be the guest speaker. Rev. Mr. Davidson, her husband, who is at present on missionary work for the United church in India, was born near Bethaven and is well-known here. Mrs. Davidson is a woman physician and her message should have particular appeal to all women. All women interested are urged to attend the rally.

A shower for Miss Effie King was held in the Sunday-school room of the United church on Monday evening, May 27, when Miss King's many friends wished her well, with many and varied beautiful gifts. A skit, put on by William McGenerty, Kenneth Boothby, Miss Marjorie Glover and Rev. C. E. Fockler, entitled "One Maid, Maid Won, and Made One," in three acts, caused much laughter and applause.

Dr. Harry Marritt, Mrs. Marritt and family, from Buffalo, spent the weekend with Mr. William Marritt.

Miss Dorothy White spent the weekend with her parents.

Mr. Thomas Johnson spent the weekend in town.

Miss Kathleen Peel, and Mr. Gordon Peel of the Royal Air Force, nephew of Mr. Peel, visited Mr. and Mrs. Peel last weekend.

Many Babies Vie For Honors At Mount Albert Sports Day

1,000 People Enjoy Sports And Contests, Rain Holds Off

Once again Mount Albert's sports day, held last Saturday afternoon and evening, is a thing of the past, and what a success it was! People held their breath most of the afternoon for fear it might rain, but it didn't and they were thankful.

The afternoon crowd was just about as large as usual, about 1,000 people, and it kept a person busy seeing all that was going on.

Of ten entries in the baseball, Unionville won first, with Mount Albert second and Peterboro third.

At the horseshow court, King and McShane came first with Stouffer and Linten second and Carr and Hill third.

In the baby show, which had around 16 entries in the first class of one to nine months, Donald Hopkins came first, Faye Murrell second, and Lorna Anne Thompson, honorable mention. In the class nine to 18 months, Marion Harwood came first, Walter Leadbetter, second and Evelyn Nicholson, honorable mention.

Mrs. C. Moorehead won the husband-calling contest. E. Lunau and W. Mitchell were tie for the largest family on the grounds.

Mrs. John Armstrong was the lucky prize winner for coming the longest distance. She comes from northern Saskatchewan.

Marian Stewart won the prize for the best-decorated bicycle and Kenneth Case came second.

George Allison, Holt, was the best man with a bucksaw and Walter Stickwood came second.

The school events, the maypole drill, the folk-dancing and songs were all good and the parents appreciated very much the work the teachers went to to help entertain in the afternoon.

The races in the afternoon were entered into by the children and young people in a very enthusiastic way and money prizes were given, some of the young people winning medals which were presented in the evening.

The following were winners in track and field events: silver medals, boys, 14-16, W. Kaiser, Sutton; 17 years or over, J. Pearson, Mount Albert; girls, 14-16, Ruth Armitage and Marian Stokes tied for first place; bronze medals, boys 14-16, Keith Stokes; 17 years or over, Murray Case, Mount Albert.

The evening entertainment took the form of an amateur contest, with three classes: (a) dancing, (b) instrumental numbers and (c) singing.

The winners were Betty Head and Betty Blower of Port Credit, class (a); Don. Cribar, Newmarket, class (b), who played the cornet, and Robert Miller, Claremont, and Doris Driver, Mount Albert, equal, class (c).

Many enjoyed the dancing to Russ Creighton's orchestra, and others visited the midway and saw old friends and it was early Sunday morning when everyone had wandered home, tired but happy.

EFFIE KING IS CHARMING BRIDE

Keswick United church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, when Miss Effie King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. King, of Keswick, became the bride of Mr. Peter Raymond Hodgson, son of Mr. P. E. Hodgson and the late Mrs. Hodgson of Winnipeg. The church was tastefully decorated with apple blossoms and tulips.

Rev. C. E. Fockler officiated. Miss Margaret Fockler was at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white embroidered organza over taffeta, fashioned on Victorian lines. Her floor-length veil was caught with lily-of-the-valley and she carried Sweetheart roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Helen Cole, as bridesmaid, wore forget-me-not blue net over taffeta with matching flower hat. She carried Premier roses and baby's breath.

Little Jean King, cousin of the bride, was a dainty flower girl in pink point d'esprit over taffeta. She wore a little flower hat and carried a nosegay of sweet peas and forget-me-not.

Mr. Byron King, only brother of the bride, acted as groomsman, and the ushers were Mr. Harold Waldon of Keswick and Mr. Jack Ritchie, a cousin of the groom.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. J. I. Ritchie, an aunt of the groom, received with the bride's mother, Mrs. Ritchie wearing a navy and white ensemble with corsage of roses and Mrs. King in navy and dusty pink triple sheer with matching hat and corsage of sweet peas.

The bridal couple left for a trip to Winnipeg amid showers of confetti and good wishes. The bride's travelling costume was a redingote ensemble in powder and air force blue with matching hat and white accessories.

On their return from Winnipeg Mr. and Mrs. Hodgson will live in Windsor.

VETERANS OFFER

the occasion," said Mayor Dr. S. J. Boyd. "I took it upon myself to interview some men who are well posted, an R.C.M.P. official and Mr. Bert Morrison. Mr. Morrison, who has a reputation for his knowledge of firearms, came here tonight at my suggestion.

"A home guard has to be responsible to the police, and so I invited Chief Sloss here tonight.

"I was gratified to see that my other idea about refugee children went over like a house afire. I was glad to see that the provincial government offered co-operation."

"The time has arrived to take some action," said R. C. Morrison. "I think we can do something with the firearms available, together with what we might obtain from Ottawa. The ammunition problem could be solved with old ammunition from Ottawa, which, on account of the likelihood of misfire, is not good enough for active service.

"The North York Revolver and Gun club has a short range under the town hall, and a long range at Glenville pond.

"It is important to learn the safety rules about guns."

Mr. Eves said that there were 140 veterans in Newmarket who could still shoot. Mr. Morrison said that that was true but that they would need practice to get "tuned up."

"The matter of a home guard is a federal matter," said Chief Constable James Sloss. "I think the rifle practice is a good thing.

"I would like to see all vagrants picked up. Many of them are foreign.

"Another thing I would like to see would be a voluntary registration of firearms. That has been suggested in another municipality, Fort Erie."

Chief Sloss said there was some concern among police organizations lest formation of "home guards" might interfere with the success of work now being carried on by the police.

"I would like to see the home guard strictly military," said Reeve F. A. Lundy. "The veterans have all been sworn in, and I think others should also be required to take the same oath. Then we will know who each other is. That was the trouble in Norway. Traitors got right into the army."

Wm. Young said that the veterans were ready to help according to their own ideas or according to somebody else's ideas, if they were better.

"We are ready to give the veterans authority to go ahead and carry out their ideas," said the mayor.

"You can't call yourselves legally a 'home guard' without the permission of the minister of national defence," said Councillor Wm. Dixon.

"We will do it anyway," said the mayor.

"You can't do it legally," said Mr. Dixon. "Another thing is it is no use practising with .22 rifles if you expect to use Lee Enfields, and the department of national defence cannot supply the 2nd division without supplying a home guard.

"Town and county police and R.C.M.P. are checking up on aliens and we don't want to muss up what the police are doing.

"There is nothing in the world to get jittery about.

"If you are going to start a home guard, do it right. Or form a Legion of Frontiersmen. That's the best organization there is in this dominion."

A unanimous resolution was passed asking the police committee to work out a plan whereby the veterans might help the police.

MRS. JOANNA PROSSER DIES, ILL SIX WEEKS

About six weeks illness resulted in the death on Saturday, June 1, of Mrs. Joanna Murrell Prosser, at the Soldiers' Memorial hospital, Orillia. She was in her 58th year.

During her many years on the sixth concession of North Gwillimbury, Mrs. Prosser took a keen interest in all church activities of Bethel church, of which she was secretary-treasurer for some years. In later years she became a member of Sutton United church, which the family attended.

The funeral service was held at her home, Orillia, on Tuesday, June 4, with Rev. Mr. McCarten of Forest Home United church conducting the service. Interment was made at Newmarket cemetery.

GLOVER WINS

Cochrane homered over Bulmer's head to tie the score at 2-2. Bennett passed away.

Again in the seventh the red team went after Stong. Giles, batting for Ken Trivett, fanned. Hilton walked. Cain got on when Dyke fumbled his drive down the first-base line. Gibney tripled to right centre over Johnny Crean's head, and Hilton and Cain romped home.

Gibney scored a minute later when Stong wild pitched. Peters and Bulmer striking out to end the rally.

In the Hill half of the inning they got one run back when Saul homered to deep centre between Cain and Bulmer after Stong struck out. Echlin flied out to Cain and O'Dell, batting for Dyke, struck out to end the game.

The best feature from the Redmen's angle was the pitching performance of Glover, who outsteadied Stong throughout, not issuing a pass while the Hill hurler gave up 6. All the rest of the team played heads-up ball and backed up the rookie hurler to the limit.

Stong hurled nice ball for the Hill, striking out nine to Glover's eight, but he gave too many free trips for his own good. The rest of the Hillers played steady ball, with the two new men, Cochrane and Dyke, perhaps being the best.

Richmond Hill: J. Crean cf, A. Crean rf, Cochrane ss, Bennett lf, Stong p, Saul 2b, Echlin c, Dyke 1b, Buchanan 3b, O'Dell (batted for Dyke in 7th).

Newmarket: K. Trivett 2b, Hilton ss, Cain cf, Gibney rf, Peters 1b, Burkholder c, Bulmer lf, Luck 3b, Glover p, Giles (batted for Trivett in 7th).

URGES ALL RESOURCES BE USED AGAINST NAZIS

Dr. H. J. Cody, president of the University of Toronto, urged all Canada to devote its resources, its man-power and ability to the limit in an effort to defeat Nazi Germany, before members of the York Pioneers, on the occasion of their annual pilgrimage to Sharon temple on Saturday.

"Are we going to stand by and witness the sacrifice of others on our behalf, or are we going to bear our share?" Dr. Cody asked. He urged the full equipment of all fighting bodies.

He stated that the pioneers, "to whom we owe a great debt of gratitude, overcame many obstacles to make Canada the country she is today." He added that the three principles upon which the pioneers made a success of their living were the home, religion and education.

Mayor Jesse M. Walton of Aurora thanked Dr. Cody, as did A. K. Graham, K.C., Toronto, who said that the remarks of Dr. Cody regarding a full war effort could not be taken too lightly. "We must carry on a full effort," he declared.

Method in Her Buying

The lady customer wished to buy a pair of slippers for her husband. On learning that his foot-size was eight, the salesman told her that men generally bought a size larger, for comfort, when buying house-slippers.

"Shall I give you size nines?" he inquired.

"Oh, no," answered the lady, firmly, "if that's the case I'll take sevens . . . You see, I like to be taken out sometimes in the evening."

WHY NOT ALASKA?

By GOLDEN GLOW

The United States government is discussing the feasibility of placing refugee families away up in Alaska, and I have no doubt whatever that the plan will prove practical.

It did seem queer that when I heard that item of news I was reading a book by Louise Anita Martin called "North to Nome," and I read it all the more interestedly accordingly. I can only tell of a trip up the coast in personal experience, but I did not go to Alaska. However, a very good friend of mine did, and she wrote me the most wonderful letters while there. Of course, that was after the gold rush, when navigation and transportation were not so hazardous. She told me tales of the wonders of the short Arctic summer, when they would start out on picnics at midnight. June, you know, is their specialty fine month—when the sun just dips down behind the horizon and rises again immediately. She was staying with a girlhood friend—the wife of a mining engineer—and she certainly gave me a new impression of Alaska and now this book recalls it all again.

Unless we know differently we are inclined to think of Alaska as a solid mass of ice and glaciers, of cruel wintry weather all the year round. We have had our opinions forged by the horrors we used to hear in our younger days about the White Horse Pass to Dawson City and the Klondike gold fields—the trail marked by the whitened bones of those who perished by the way, the trail along the Skagway River and Dead Horse Gulch.

We forget that they have summer up there, where you can almost see things grow. Sure enough they have seedtime and harvest, the same as we do. Of course, they have glaciers and high mountains, but the valleys are very fertile and everyone has delightful flower gardens and vegetable plots.

I expect I have my geography sadly mixed as no doubt many others have when we just give it a casual thought. Of course, Dawson City is in Yukon Territory and the Yukon Territory is in Canada, but we just think of it all as Alaska, up in the Arctic. If my friend's letters of over 25 years ago were interesting, fascinating reading, how about it now, since all forms of navigation have opened up the country, railroad, and, of course, boats on the many navigable rivers, motor-bus and airplane? She made her headquarters with friends at Dawson City, but she went with them on many wonderful trips, and somehow it was the midnight sun that seemed to fascinate me most.

Well do I recall the long, lighted twilights in British Columbia the year I lived there—what must it be there now with daylight saving? We certainly do not connect the Arctic circle or "up in Alaska" with woods full of wild flowers and blueberry bushes, but even so—they have them the same as do we. Only a much shorter season.

I had better get back to what I started to say and that was the plan to put refugee families up in Alaska. Quite recently I heard a missionary address by Bishop Sovereign of the Athabasca district, and he said in the course of his talk that he believed that the coming country was to be the region around the McKenzie and Peace rivers. And here comes the suggestion of the U.S.A. government to establish homes there for those left homeless by this terrible war.

Near Fairbanks there is what is known as the Alaska Agricultural College, where they experiment with grain and seeds of all kinds. It is situated in a fertile valley about 100 miles south of the Arctic circle, so refugee farmers could avail themselves of all knowledge acquired by tests and experiments as to crops and other things.

Alaska is becoming more popular every year I hear—but when I look back and recall my trip up the coast one grand summer day during my second visit to British Columbia, I am sure I do not wonder. And if the Alaska highway becomes a reality and folks can motor there—well—all I can say is I'd like to take a motor-trip there and spend a summer among the glories of Alaska.

Complicated

Traffic Cop—Hey, you can't make a right turn here.

Lady Motorist—Why not?

Traffic Cop—Well, a right turn is wrong here. The left turn is right. If you want to turn right here, turn left. And—then, auw, drive on.

Everything to Gain

The bus was crowded, and the two pretty girls who had just got on were compelled to stand. One of them, to steady herself, took hold of what she supposed was her friend's hand.

It was some minutes before she discovered that it was not her friend's hand she was holding but that of a young man.

"Oh," she gasped, blushing, "I've got the wrong hand."

The young man smiled and held out the other hand.

"It's all right," he said. "Here's the other."

No Need For It

Mrs. Newed entered the dining-room and proudly placed the turkey on the table.

"There you are, my dear, my first turkey," she exclaimed.

Mr. Newed gazed with admiration at the bird's shape.

"Wonderful, darling," he beamed, "and how beautifully you have stuffed it."

"Stuffed?" she echoed. "But, my dear, this one wasn't hollow."

Era printers take pride in their workmanship.

Cut Down to Size

In a side-street nearby, a batch of neighborhood youngsters play the most murderous games of roller-skate hockey that ever pulverized a shin-bone. On a Saturday afternoon recently a giant truck came battering through.

One of the youngsters in hard pursuit of the puck skated head-on to the truck's front wheels, smacked the disk to a teammate, then miraculously swerved just in time to avoid being steam-rollered. The truckman, 225 pounds of meat and gristle, jammed on the brakes, stuck his head out and let loose a 60-second stream of fire and brimstone.

When he paused for breath, the kid spoke. "Go wan," he said, thumbing a derisive fist toward the end of the block, "get that can rollin' outa here before I cut ya down to drivin' one a them midgets." Then with a beautifully executed one-skate turn, he shot forward into the hockey melee again.
